Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 03 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy with bright spells and showers. Breezy and cold.

Today:
A cloudy start across the region with scattered showers most frequent in the east. Showers continue into the afternoon, at times wintry. Remaining cold, especially in the increasing breeze. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy with some clear spells for the southern areas. Showers persist during the night, possible wintry on the hills, and the odd icy patch possible. Remains breezy and cold. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
A largely cloudy day with some occasional showers across the region. Drier during the early afternoon with some bright spells. More showers for later, wintry over high ground. Rather breezy. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather dry and cloudy on Tuesday with some wintry showers for the east. Drier on Wednesday with a few bright spells. Rain pushing eastwards on Thursday. Staying cold.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.